VICE CHANCELLOR

Education has to bring about a desirable change in behavior. These behaviors result in habits, habits become our attitude and attitudes form our values which are needed for the society. Value Education at the Higher Education level is necessary to cope up with the competitive world and help everyone to form their own value system. Value Education also helps the young adults in promoting their happiness, humanity, cooperation, honesty, love, peace, unity, humility, national integration, inter-national brotherhood and the like.

At this juncture, the two day National Conference on “Value Education through Teacher Education” organized by Women’s University College of Education, Mother Teresa Women’s University, Kodaikanal in collaboration with Shanthi Niketan College of Education, Uthamapalayam, Theni (Dt) is very much appreciable. I congratulate Dr.R.T.Saroja, Convener & Organizing Secretary of the conference for her sustained efforts and initiative in conducting this valuable conference. I convey my wishes to the Secretary and staff members of Shanthi Niketan College of Education for their cooperation and collaboration.

I also convey my regards to the e’journal publishers of the International Journal on Advanced Research and Innovative Ideas in Education (IJARIE) for their support in publishing this conference issue in their Journal.
