

“THE CLASH BETWEEN EASTERN AND WESTERN CULTURES ON CLEOPATRA; HOW DIFFERENT CULTURES LOOK AFTER CLEOPATRA ”

Dr. Vinod kumar Panika
J.N. Centre For Policy Research

Awadhesh pratap singh university (M.P.)

Abstract:- Nature is the world's greatest artist. Creating seasons, bringing about changes from time to time, is nature's gift. Nature's creations are unique and unique. Man must have been the last and most beautiful creation of nature. In man, when the male has been created by nature, he would not have paid special attention to his beauty for safety and other reasons. When man has created a female, then surely all the qualities of the artwork have been attempted with his own hands. Because there is no object or animal that is more beautiful than a woman and will not be able to be made. Therefore, it is fair to say that the woman and her beauty is the last most beautiful work of nature.

key words:- beautiful, war, well, civilization, evil,

---

Rersearch methodology :-Scientific methods will be used to complete the study of the present research topic. Mainly the following methods will be used-

1- Library method.

Preface :- When the story of beauty and beauty is started, the name of Venus, the goddess of Hushna, comes first after the shifts of heaven. After this, a woman would stop from taking up the work of cleopatra living in the egyptian country. cleopatra was born on january 69 BC and died on 10 august 30 BC | Cleopatra was extremely clever, beautiful, visionary, ambitious, fond, knowing the future and a monarchical princess (queen). Cleopatra's life went through extremely struggling and rigorous trials. Rani Sahiba also did not survive the favouritism on the part of the male side. Queen Cleopatra of Mishra was the daughter of Tameli.

Cleopatra :-

At the age of 17, when cleopatra was to become the ruler of the kingdom as per the rules after the death of King PTameli. Both her brother PTameli dionisas and cleopatra were to rule jointly. According to The Tradition of Mishra, both the brothers and sisters used to rule mixed as husband and wife. Not all her younger brothers liked that a woman should be made queen and known as the ruler of that kingdom. Instead of accepting her kingdom by making her sister queen, all of Cleopatra's brothers rebelled against her. Not only that, all the brothers had decided that now they will drive cleopatra out of the country. After much of the conspiracy, Cleopatra was expelled from the state. Cleopatra had to flee to Syria, saving his life. King Shijar of Rome had come to Egypt at that time. Cleopatra went to cleopatra on some pretext to get his help. Seeing the beauty of cleopatra, the king of Rome was also attracted.

King Shizer of Rome also agreed to assist Queen cleopatra. Julius Caesar defeated his brother and made cleopatra queen of Egypt. Suddenly Caesar also died and cleopatra's lover, Antony, was defeated in the war and committed suicide.

Cleopatra could not bear such a great pain and by consuming poison, he also committed suicide. Thus, Cleopatra's life was extremely painful and mysterious. How should women take care of their beauty? Can be learned from Cleopatra. Cleopatra How she wanted to make herself a ruler by not liking the rule of her brothers shows that Cleopatra had the ability to challenge the culture and civilization of the time. From her life, women get this lesson that they should not be afraid of the circumstances, but should stand firm against her.

Cleopatra was the favorite of three people from the Roman kingdom at that time.

(1) Julius Shizer (2) Mark Anthony (3) Octavian. Its beauty was so great that many artists built many statues of Cleopatra. Shekshpiar Dridon and Barnad-shaa, three dramatists of English literature, wrote a number of stories making Cleopatra the main heroine of their story.

Many films were produced in the name of Cleopatra. Cleopatra had a connection with India as well. Indian spices, muslins, pearls, ships used to buy all the Cleopatra. Cleopatra had knowledge of five languages. Due to the cleverness of her language, Cleopatra had made hundreds of people crazy. She was so clever that she knew the person in front of her. It was normal for him to know someone's mind.

To make herself queen, she used mysterious remedies. Cleopatra did a lot to keep his kingdom safe, which remains a mystery to this day. Ruling with his younger brother, killing his sister, producing Caesar's son, having a love affair with Mark Anthoni, having 3 children of Anthoni, betraying Anthoni, having a love affair with the Octavian, there were many such events that are still necessary today. Many scholars are still doing research work on this matter of cheating Anthoni by meeting Octavian, trapping Octavian himself in the trick and wanting to become the queen of Egypt.

Cleopatra ruled the Egyptians from 51 BC to 30 BC. She was known as the last ruler of the Pharaoh dynasty. To preserve its beauty, Cleopatra used to import 700 donkeys of milk every day. It also happened that she was able to retain her beauty for a long time.

Conclusion :- Cleopatra was a very beautiful woman. She was the queen of her kingdom and tried all means to fulfill her determination. Once it came to her mind that if she wanted to become a queen, she had become a queen. Tried all kinds of efforts to become queen and fulfilled her dreams.

But in front of Cleopatra, many problems had to be faced due to Eastern and Western civilization. On the other hand, Cleopatra has also given a new civilization to the eastern western civilization.

Bibliography:-

- (1) M.L. Gupta, Dr. D.D. sharma (2013) "samajik anusandhan vidhi" sahitya bhavan pablikeshans aagra
- (2) DR. R.N. Trivedi(2013) "Research Methodology" college book depo jaipur
- (3) Asim kumar mukharjee "Nature in shakespearean Dreama Calcutta University (1977 )
- (4) Satyabrata Ray " Serving men in shakespeare s plays" Culcutta University (2016)
- (5) Kumari sarojini shintri"Woman in shakespeare" Karnatak University (1959)
- (6) V. shantha "A study of the selected works of shakespeare in the light of shri Ramanujas Philoshophy" Sri Chandrashekharendra saraswathi viswavidyalaya (2012)
- (7) Sandeep Kumar Dubey "Postcolonial Perespectives on shakespeare's plays: The merchant of venice , othello , antony, and cleopatra and the tempest" Allahabad University ( 2011)
- (8) P.Usha Sundari "Two faces of woman: An Intertextual study"Utkal University (2000)

(9) Suman Kumar Nayek “The womens role: a study of woman as initiator in some shakespearean plays”
Bardhman University (2008) page no -313

(10) Toony Gill “Frailty ,thy thy name is woman” A study of the dark lady of the sonnets, Gertrude,
Ophelia, cressida, and cleopatra” North-eastern hill Univerity shillong Meghalay 1993 page no 101

(11) William Shakespeare : Sonnets to the Dark Lady (137-132) and 109; and drama in William Shakespeare : The Complete Works, ed. by Alfred Harbage (Allen Lane, The Penguin Press, London, 1969).

(12 ) V. Nagaraju , “Tissue culture studies in Gladiolus” Guahati University 1994

